

FACTIONS IN NEW TERRITORY UNITE

Representative Gathering Attends Meeting of Southwest Improvement Association.

GULDENZOFF MADE PRESIDENT

Succeeds E. D. Fisher as Executive of Organization Which Aims to Better Conditions.

With a representative gathering showing all factions in the newly annexed territory to the city of Rock Island united, the Southwest Improvement association last night elected officers at a meeting held at J. T. Kennedy's store, 1101 Twenty-first avenue. Following were named:

President—Charles Guldenzoff.

Vice President—M. Bollman.

Secretary—C. C. Wilson.

The meeting was the first held since the supreme court gave its decision holding the union ordinance valid. The organization immediately launched plans to promote many improvements which it has considered in the past and which it has held up pending the court ruling.

E. D. Fisher, retiring president and chairman of the committee which had in charge the matter of securing the cooperation of the municipal commission and civic organizations to provide one or more comfort stations in the city, reported that the committee had waited on the commission and that the plan had been discussed, but that no definite action had been taken. The committee was continued and will take up the plan again with the commission.

Want Lights All Night.

A committee appointed at the last meeting composed of C. C. Wilson, Fred Meyers and John Eick, will call to the attention of the city council a condition which is said to exist in the former village of Sears. It was stated at the meeting that at 12 o'clock at night the street lights are extinguished. The committee will ask the council to see that the lights are left burning throughout the night.

This committee also has in charge the matter of securing 15-minute street car service on the Watch-Tower line from Center station between 6 and 7 o'clock in the morning, the campaign against the erection of billboards in the territory and the project of extending the Third avenue car line into the southwest section of the city. These matters will be taken up again with the city commission.

Two Meetings a Month.

The association decided last night that since the legality of the annexation of the new territory had been decided upon, there was sufficient business before the organization for two meetings each month. Accordingly it was decided to hold sessions on the second and fourth Fridays of the month, the same meeting nights the association had following its organization. The next meeting will be held Jan. 28.

EVANGELIST CAMP TO CONTINUE CAMPAIGN

The bible institute and evangelist campaign being conducted by Evangelist Norman Camp at Broadway Presbyterian church has kept the interest of the people in spite of the inclement weather and the services have been most helpful. Meetings will continue every day through the coming week with cottage prayer meetings Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 9:30 a. m., with a study of Ephesians at 2:30 each afternoon and popular evangelistic services at 8 p. m. from Monday to Friday. The following subjects are announced for the week:

Monday, 8 p. m.—"13 Ways to Hell." What did Christ teach about hell? Why is there such a place? Where is hell?

Tuesday, 8 p. m.—"The Devil." A person or a myth? Where did he come from? What is he like? What is he doing? Where is he going?

Wednesday, 8 p. m.—"The Resurrection of the body." Was the body of Christ literally raised from the grave? If so, what became of it? Is He living in a body of flesh and bones now?

Thursday, 8 p. m.—"The Second Coming of Christ." What is meant? Will it be the end of the world? What will happen when He comes? Will the world know it?

Friday, 8 p. m.—"The Return of Christ to Earth." The millennial reign of Christ. The anti-Christ. The present world war? Is it Armageddon?

SEEKING TO HAVE LANGUAGE TAUGHT

Naturalization Authorities to Try to Get Wives of Applicants to Attend School.

In an effort to broaden the work which the night schools are doing for the foreigners who come to this country, R. K. Campbell, commissioner of naturalization, has sent to Circuit Clerk G. W. Gamble and the other clerks of the United States, an order requiring that in addition to other information, secured at the time declarations of intentions are filed, the official shall get the names of the wife of the petitioner for citizenship, place of her residence and whether or not she lives with her husband.

The data are desired in order that the bureau may send the names of the wives of declarants to the school authorities of the country so they may be advised of the advantages to be gained through attendance at night schools. The bureau now issues a monthly report to the schools of all applicants for citizenship. It is especially desired by the government that the new citizens and their families learn the American language as thoroughly and quickly as possible in order to gain a better understanding of the customs of this country.

IOWA AND ILLINOIS DENTISTS HAVE MEET

A joint meeting of the Rock Island county and Scott county dental societies was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Rock Island club, continuing until 10:30 in the evening. Dr. G. Walter Dittmar of Chicago gave an interesting and instructive talk on inlays, crown and bridge work, with lantern slides. Many dentists from the tri-city attended and enjoyed dinner at the club. A similar meeting is being planned for the second week in February, when Dr. Logan of Chicago will give a talk.

PAINTERS' SCHOOL IS WELL ATTENDED

Nearly a hundred tri-city painters gathered at the Industrial hall last night to attend the painters' school being conducted under the auspices of the Tri-City Painters' union. Third coat work, materials and old and new methods were taken up. The school is free and the public will be directly benefited by this new plan of instruction by the local union.

GRIEF STRENGTH FOR PADEREWSKI

Artistry of Great Pianist Softened by Sadness for His Beloved Country of Poland.

PLAYS AT THE MOLINE THEATRE

Large Audience of Tri-City Music Lovers Enjoys Concert Presented Last Evening.

(BY MARY AQUIN.)

Ignace J. Paderewski, renowned Polish pianist and composer, presented a program of music at The Moline theatre in Moline last evening before an audience of tri-city people closely in sympathy with his inimitable art and the purpose of his visit here and who accorded him handsome ovations at the commencement and close of the concert.

Tall, as slender as he was in early youth, his leonine head and classic features touched with the gravity and modesty that was the distinguishing mark on his first visit to America, to those of his audience who had not seen him in 12 years Paderewski seems little changed, but greatly saddened.

A hint of this creeps into his interpretation and the happiest passages in the score appear softened a wee bit with the dew and duskiness and sweetness of twilight.

Ever the master of the instrument, his selections last night gave broad range to his abilities and showed him at his best as he swept the resonance from the strings to stir his auditors with the mighty clash of vibrant sounds; or in the subtler notes of harmony carried them aloft in gentle thought or pinioned their spirit to the melody of the dance. Refreshing to a degree it must have been to many to follow his interpretation of compositions earworm by similarity of treatment by pianists in general. The effective pauses, the natural breathing places, the ominous calm before the storm and the quiet after the hurricane, all fine emotions the heart and brain of man is heir to, are designated through the magic fingertips of the artist, Paderewski.

And Paderewski, the man? Simplicity and naturalness, modesty and refinement, intelligence and purity, these are the dominant qualities that make perfect the appreciation of men and women who cannot allow for the separation of the genius and the man by a chasm of leeway in morals. Paderewski reflects nobility of thought, the passion of a sensitive soul, the fire of patriotism and one feels intuitively that the sorrow of Poland is crushing the heart of her son.

Poland like Belgium is made to suffer because of her location to the warring countries. Through no fault of her own her people are pitifully enduring all of the horrors visited on those in the pathway of the great calamity. It was said at the commencement of the war that thought of its atrocities had stilled the hand of Paderewski and he could no longer play the piano but at sight of his country's suffering he determined to fight for his people with the best weapon at his command. The American public in patronizing the Paderewski piano concert is contributing directly to the relief of the Polish victims, for every dollar earned by this means is speedily forwarded to the relief society. It is the most beautiful and beneficent use of a talent—the allaying of suffering. If the world were peopled by minds as intelligently directing their forces as Paderewski, earth would not have ground for the maelstrom and inferno called war.

Somehow Paderewski made his audience feel this. A song without words, poured in Schumann's Symphonies; it grew triumphant in Liszt's Rhapsodie and while the people sat enthralled, intoxicated with the written notes of masters of music, the voice of John Sobieski, whose wizardry defeated the Turks in the fierce struggle between crescent and the crown, his followers who fought and died for a free Poland cried out in passionate strain at Paderewski's call for a free world. The trickling, twinkling tones wrought mystic cabalistics which appeared the words of old King Casimir: "I, your king and father, return to your hands what the world esteems above all things—a crown—and choose for my throne six feet of earth where I shall sleep in peace." The music deepened and out of its depths rose the common soldier, Przemyslaw, and his plea to sweep the ghastly ruins of mistaken ideals and refuse to accept the boundaries of language as cause for hate.

Gives Several Encores.

Everyone has knowledge of Paderewski's wonderful control of his instrument, of his unique pedalling which has opened the way for truer interpretation of the works of all the greater master composers, of his perfect scales, his diminution of tone, until the note fades away like a very ghost of sound, of the marked pauses, of his humble attitude before his life work, and it was futile to attempt to add to what others experience for themselves. The audience at the Moline last night has a cherished memory of a great man and a great art. With his characteristic amiability, Paderewski augmented the program with several numbers in response to encores and repeated until his hearers were satisfied a portion of the delightful galaxy of Chopin. No part of his program but pleased, and to please, not confuse, is the aim of the true artist.

Program of Evening.

Paderewski's program was as follows:

Fantasia, op. 15 ..... Schubert

Allegro con fuoco

Adagio

Presto

Without, so dreary—within, so cheery!

Let us hope each storm-swept passer-by is hurrying on to the haven of a home where wife and the little folks are secure in their radiator-made, cheery climate, controlled by a mere turn of a valve. The poorly-heated house is a half-hearted, dreary place. The only way to flood all rooms with cleanly, wholesome, vital-giving warmth is by an outfit of

AMERICAN & IDEAL

RADIATORS BOILERS

High winds cannot arrest nor chilling cold offset their ample flow of warmth.

None of the vital element is taken from the air—no injurious coal-gases, ash-dust, or red-hot surfaces to menace health, injure furnishings, or create a fire risk. Besides, the cleanly radiator heating saves immensely in women's housework.

They reduce the cost of living and better the living

IDEAL SMOKELESS Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are the efficient, clean, healthful, silent, reliable servants of the house owner—they do more or cheer, work-saving and economy than any other material or article you put into your home!

Property thus heated sells quicker or brings 10 to 15% higher rental—a paying investment. Outlasts the building. Being the largest heating manufacturers in each of seven greatest countries of the world enables us to put into our outfits the best ideas and practices of their scientific and skilled men, and at lowest costs obtainable anywhere.

Don't wait until you build, but put in at once the genuine, enduring foundation of comfort—IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators. Five months winter still ahead. Outfits put in without disturbing present heater. Ask for the (free) book of heating facts: "Ideal Heating." Puts you under no obligation to buy. Accept no substitutes!

A genuine, practical, built-in Vacuum Cleaner—at $150

We also make the ARCO Wand Vacuum Cleaner, connected by an iron suction pipe to various floors of houses, flats, schools, churches, hotels, etc. Through a light weight hose ALL the dirt, cobwebs, lint, threads, moths, etc., are drawn with lightning rapidity down the iron piping into big, sealed dust-bucket in cellar. No dragging around a clumsy, inefficient portable cleaner—instead, you have a practical outfit that is a part of the building—like Radiator heating. Ask for catalog (free).

Two dolls dressed as bride and groom and a large autographed photograph of Paderewski were disposed of by a drawing from the stage conducted by William Butterworth. Mr. Butterworth explained the object of the sale of dolls that Madame Paderewski conducted behind the stage curtain at the close of the concert and told of Poland's unfortunate position in the war. A boy of charming young Moline girls canvassed the audience and the tickets sold well. Little Miss Irene Weider, a lovely child of three or four years, was lifted to the stage and on behalf of a group of Polish people presented Paderewski with a large sheaf of flowers, roses and lilies. He acknowledged it by a kiss on the child's brow. A genuinely nice courtesy to the Paderewskis and their cause was that of Mrs. Frank Allen, who opened her home for a public reception to Madame Paderewski and inspection of the dolls dressed in national costume by artists and on sale. The concert brought out a good attendance, and a number of the Catholic clergy and others came from surrounding cities.

"WATCH FOR THE WAGON"

The Shredded Wheat Company is Distributing in This City Samples of Its Famous Breakfast Food From Its Sanitary Automobiles.

There are many ways of acquainting a family with a food product. One of the most direct ways of reaching the home is through daily talks in the newspaper.

The only thing that can add to the effectiveness of this introduction is the giving of the actual food itself to members of the family. When these methods are combined nothing can surpass them for directness and effectiveness. "The proof of the pudding" in this instance is in the chewing of the shreds, for we are told by the manufacturers of this famous cereal food that "It's all in the Shreds." In other words, the Shredded Wheat company claims that it is through its shredding process that the whole wheat grain is made thoroughly digestible in the human stomach, and that because of this process Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the most perfect food ever devised for the human being.

To show its good faith in its own product and to better acquaint families with its nutritive value, its cleanliness and purity, the company carries on very extensive sampling campaigns in the United States, Canada and the British Isles. The representatives of the Shredded Wheat company are now distributing these delicious, crisp little loaves of shredded wheat in the homes of this city. They are distributed from clean, sanitary automobiles and are handed directly to the housewife, or some member of the family, together with a leaflet which describes the process of manufacture and the many uses of the food.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Beautiful Bust and Shoulders are possible if you will wear a scientifically constructed Bien Jolie Brassiere.

The dragging weight of an unconfined bust so stretches the supporting muscles that the contour of the figure is spoiled.

put the bust back where it belongs, prevent the full bust from having the appearance of being loose, eliminate the danger of dragging muscles and continue the flesh of the shoulder, giving a graceful line to the entire upper body.

They are the daintiest and most serviceable garments imaginable—come in all materials and styles: Cross Back, Hook Front, Surplice, Bandeau, etc. Bowed with "Waistline," the rustless boning—permitting washing without removal.

Have your dealer show you Bien Jolie Brassieres. If not stocked, we will gladly send him, prepaid, samples to show you.
